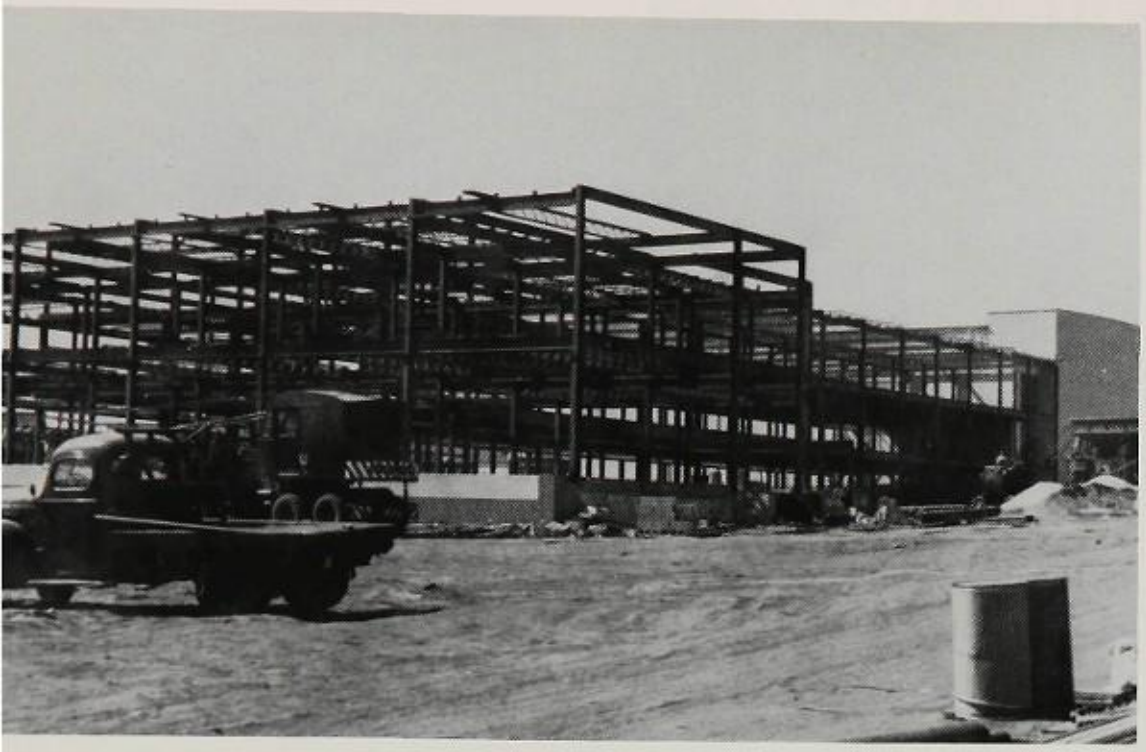
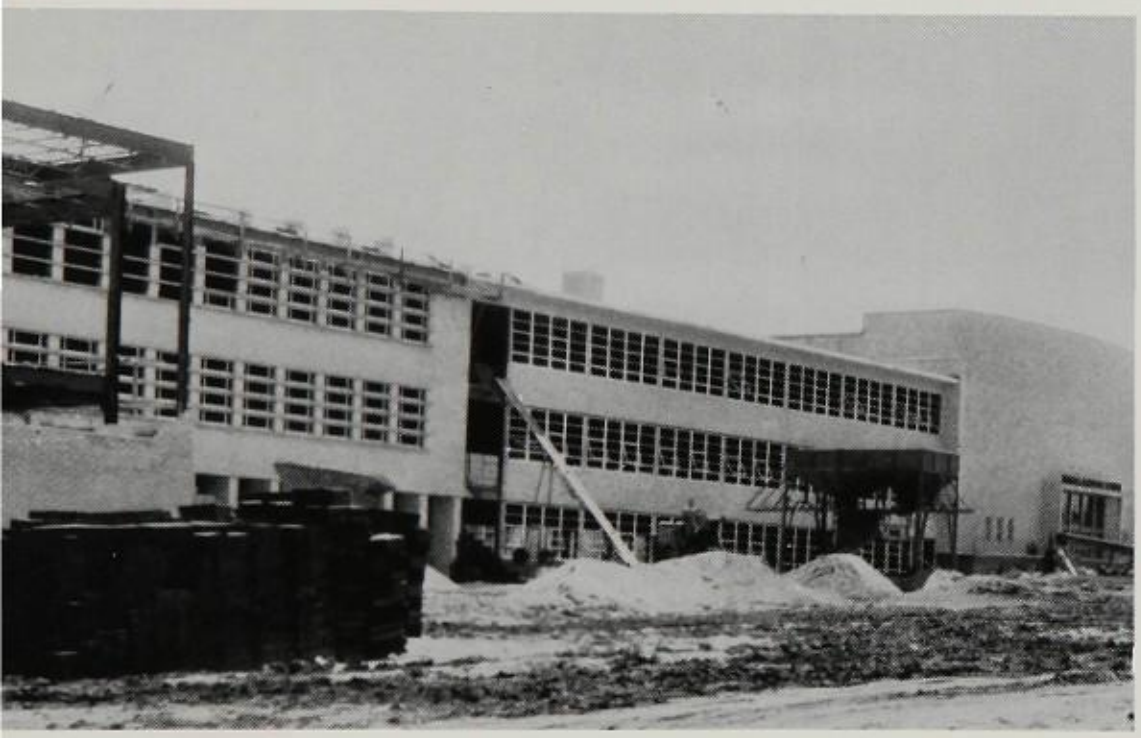
Thomas A Edison

"If I have spurred men to greater effort, and if our work has widened the horizon of man's understanding even a little and given a measure of happiness in the world, I am content."

As Edison reaches its tenth year as a school, we pause to look back at the many outstanding accomplishments which have placed Edison among the top schools in the nation. In every field of endeavor, from athletics to National Merit Scholarships, Edison has maintained an extremely high level of achievement. Edison has not reached its zenith. Edison students will continue to emulate the great individual who set the example.



L. E. Smith Construction Company was awarded the contract for the senior high for a bid of 1,343,210 dollars.



Dimensions of 983' 7" by 43' 8" make up the modern functional building designed by Black and West Company.

"Operation Sods," projects of 1954 and 1957, beautified our 40 acre campus with grass, trees, and shrubs.

In 1951 the first step was taken toward the construction of Edison High School when the forty acres of the Beverly Hills Saddle Club were purchased from Dr. Walter Wright. By 1955 the junior high was occupied and work on the senior high had begun.

On Sunday, May 5, 1957, in the newly completed auditorium, Edison was dedicated:

"To the children we would serve . . . today and in the years to come.

"To education that is meaningful in a modern world.

"To teachers who are themselves dedicated to the responsibility they assume."

The Edison dream had become a reality.

Our

In its tenth year Edison has an enrollment of 3,062 and a teaching staff of 123.

Namesake and Our School . . .

Pink Magic, presented in 1956, was the first production in the newly completed auditorium which seats 1,216.

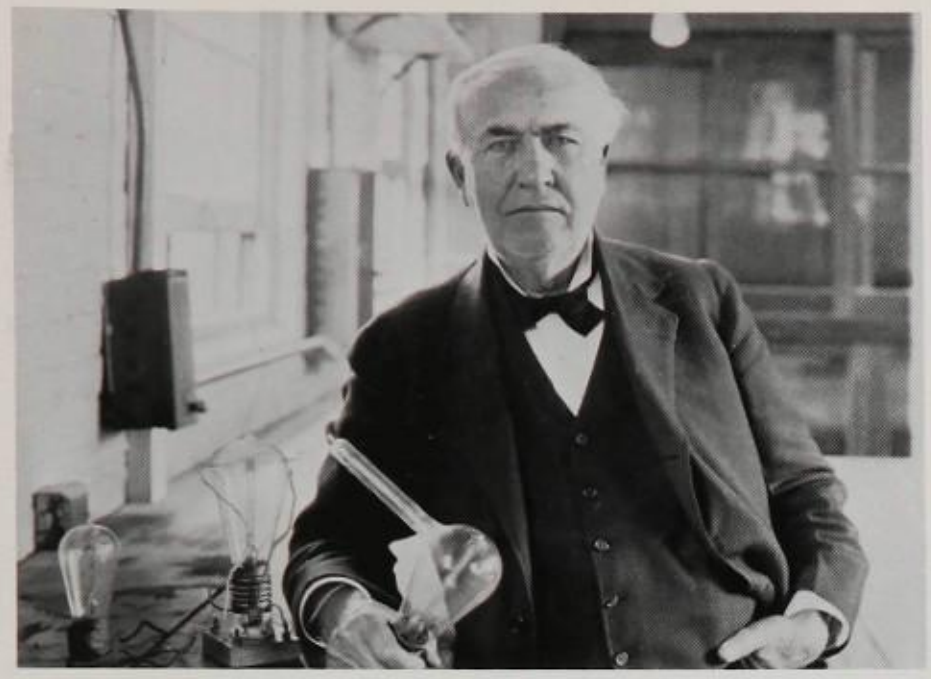
In 1957-58 Edison had all six grades with a total enrollment of 3,237 and a teaching staff of 53 teachers in the junior high and 51 in the senior high.

Success is achieved by individual effort. Sandy Taylor invests a few worthwhile moments in quiet study in the library.

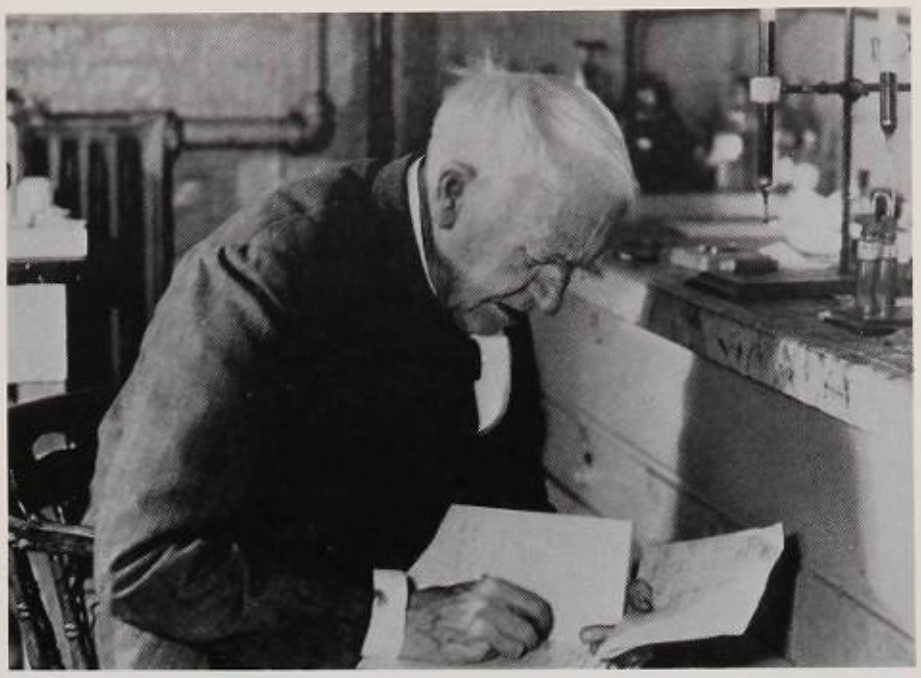
Our namesake set an example of hard work which all high school students may well follow. At Edison High School, both faculty and students are dedicated to excellence in every field of scholastic endeavor. This cannot be done without hard work, and Edison students are willing to give the time and energy necessary to attain that excellence.

Spur Us to Greater

Thirty-three Merit Scholarship semi-finalists are an example of the effort demonstrated by Edison students.



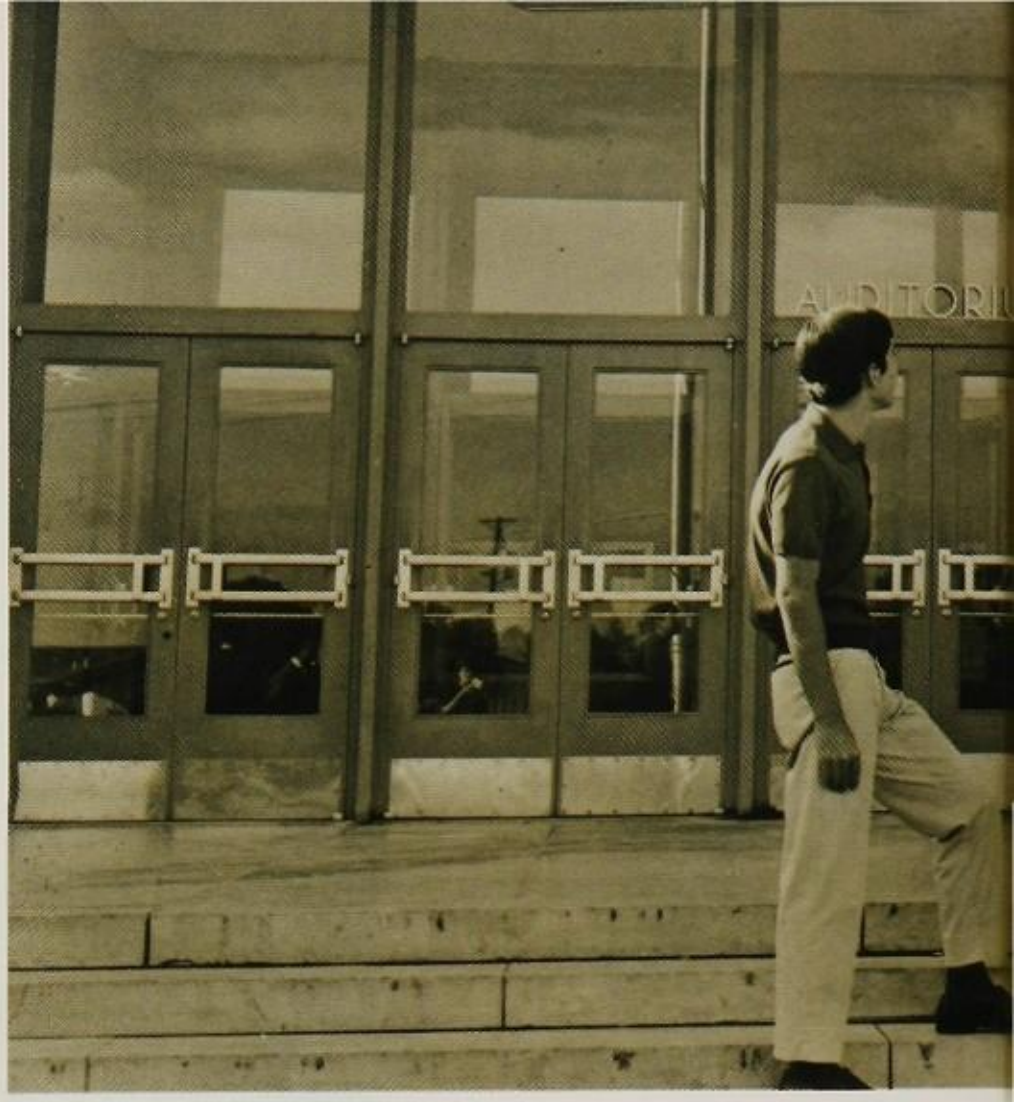
In countless ways Thomas Alva Edison's incandescent bulb lights the way for our future.



Diligent work meant success for Thomas A. Edison just as it will for many Edison students.

Effort . . .

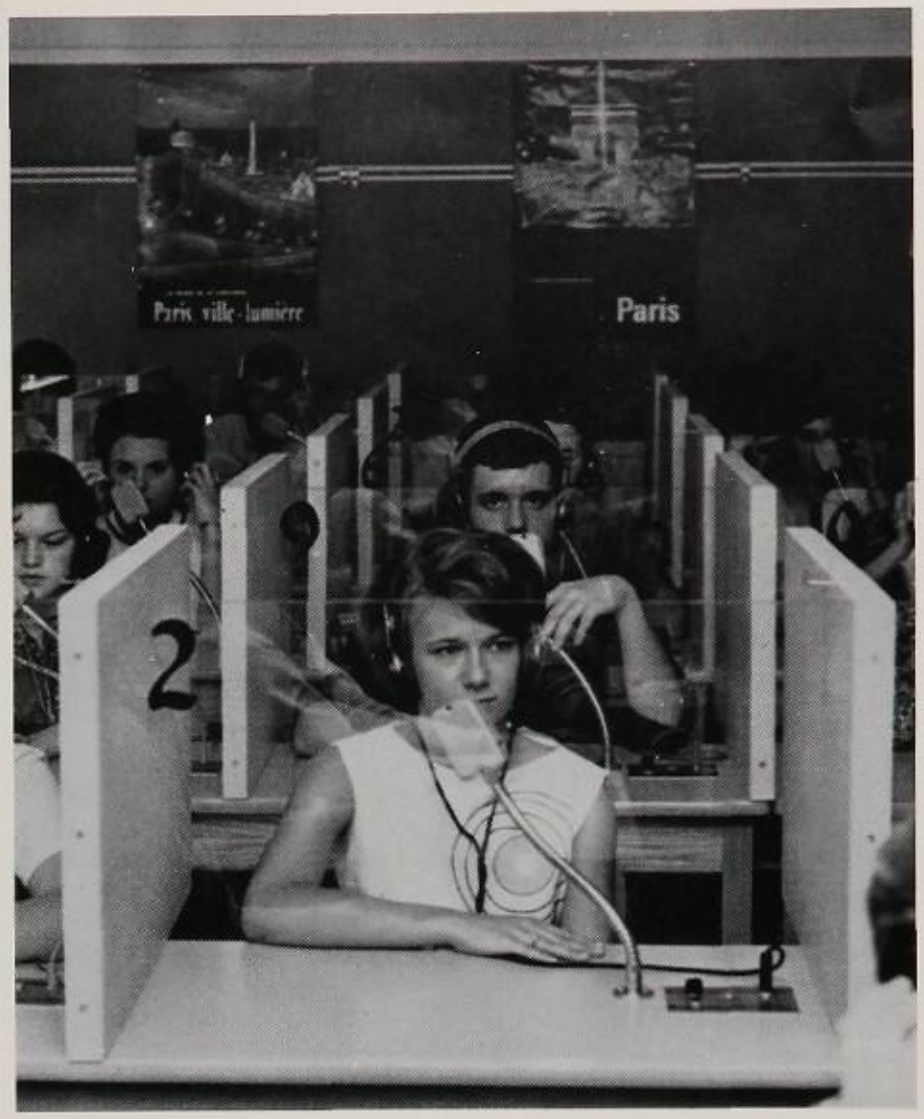
Edison's friendship with John Philip Sousa indicates his variety of interests. Students at EHS also enjoy a myriad of interests.



Exemplifying the quality of our nine AFS students, Robert Christie and Ney Tavora widen our understanding of other cultures.

Widen the Horizon of Our

John Philip Sousa composed many of the arrangements played by Edison's Marching Band in parades, halftime activities, concerts, and contest numbers.



Students are provided the opportunity to become more fluent in French and Spanish through the use of our modern language lab.

Understanding . . .

Thomas Edison paved the way for the students of Edison High School to increase their knowledge. With his inventions of the motion picture projector and his improvement of the microphone he made ideas available to a broader range of people. Edison's friendship with John Philip Sousa widened his own horizon just as participation in the marching band or the AFS program aids Edison students.

Numerous improvements have evolved through the use of Thomas Edison's invention, the motion picture projector.

A familiar sight at all athletic events is the megaphone, another of Edison's inventions.

Little did Thomas Edison know that when he invented the electric light it would be used to illuminate the Edison stage for its many productions.

Popular music, good food, and friends provide Eileen Freeman, Phil Boesche, Melanie Bates, Alan Fedman, Nancy Allison, and Bobby Kenny with many high school memories.

And

Under the Edison lights the Concert Chorus members present their interpretation of "The Telephone Hour" from Bye Bye Birdie.

Give Us a Measure of Happiness . . .

Edison High School enriches the lives of its students with its extracurricular activities such as the Southern Ball, our victory mixers, Eagle athletic events, and assemblies. The inventions of Thomas Edison, such as the movie projector and the phonograph, have contributed to many good times. Thanks to him, our high school years are truly a happy experience.

The phonograph, introduced by Edison in 1878, has become one of his most popular inventions.

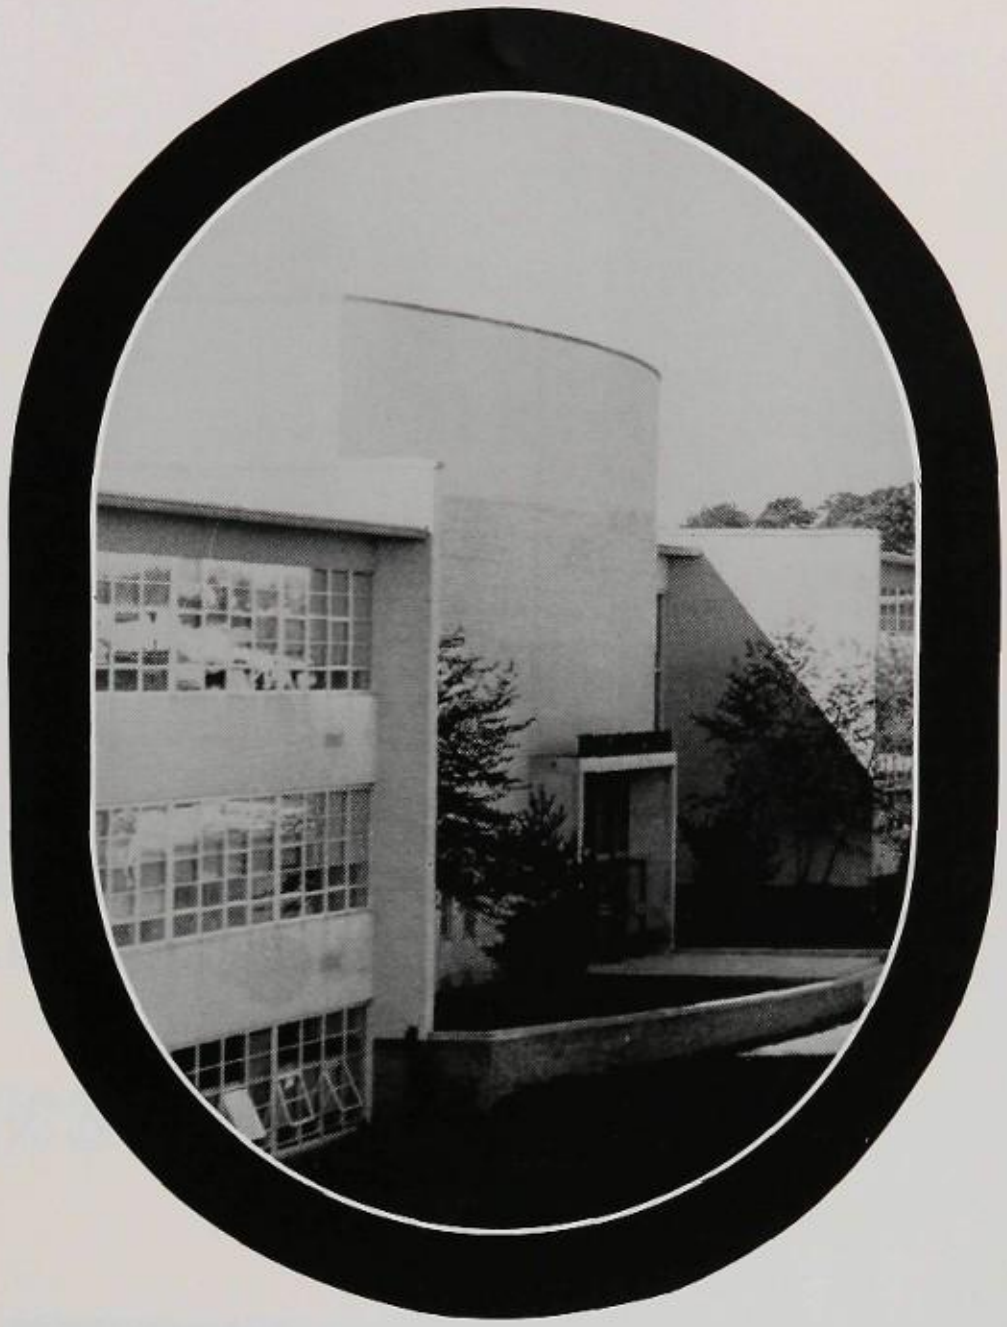
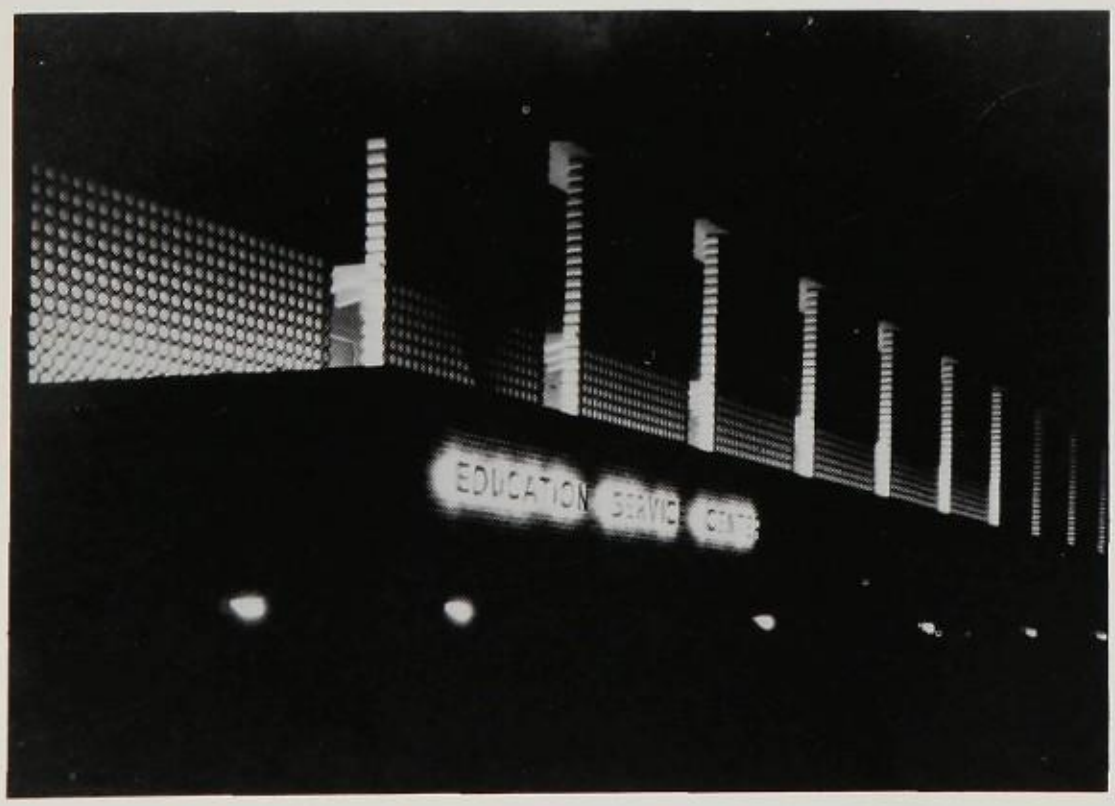
MR. LEWIS CLEVELAND



Throughout a student's high school days, there is always the guiding hand of a principal, unseen and often unappreciated. Edison is indeed truly honored and proud to have a man as devoted as Mr. Cleveland. He is deeply concerned with each activity of the students and faculty, whether the activity is of an athletic or scholastic nature. Mr. Cleveland has served as senior high principal for three years and each passing year reveals greater achievement in our school's record. The excellent leadership and inspiration of our principal has, in part, stimulated this outstanding record.

DR. CHARLES C. MASON

SUPERINTENDENT



Standing not only as a site of beauty but also of importance to the city is the heart beat of Tulsa Public Schools, the Education Service Center.

Since 1944, Dr. Charles C. Mason has served as Superintendent of the Tulsa Public Schools. In twenty years he has devoted much time and effort to the supervision of the now over ninety schools throughout Tulsa. True concern for the education of America's youth can be seen in his excellent work as chief administrator of the Tulsa School System and executive officer of the Tulsa Board of Education.

Junior high assistant principal, Mr. Paul Hamm, supervises the adjustment of two new people at Edison, Mrs. Sandra Luton and Jimmy Williams.

Administration

Under the guiding hand of Mr. Russell Rathjens, counselor, Mr. Roger Kruse, dean of boys, and Mrs. Zoe White, dean of girls, junior high students accept their roles in junior high.

Mr. Don Hoopert, dean of men, discusses with Mr. Jack Griffin, senior high assistant principal, the schedule for future achievement tests.

Guides and Counsels

Every student is the prime concern of the junior and senior high administration. Through the hard work of four senior high counselors, three junior high counselors, two assistant principals and the P-T.A., Edison students are given every opportunity to complete a successful year.

Mr. Jack Griffin, senior high assistant principal, reviews the importance of a student's cumulative record with senior high counselors, Mrs. Sydney Powell and Mr. Engel Grow.

Senior high workers Edith Gay, schedule clerk, and Colleen Norman, attendance clerk, are important to the daily activities of Edison.

Evelyn Duncan, junior high nurse, and Virginia Washburn, senior high nurse, aid students who have become ill or injured during school hours.

Serving students and teachers in the junior high office are Stella Myers, Corene Adams, Virginia Smith and Winnie McClain.

Personnel

Emma Lee Cerny, secretary of finance, handles many financial matters of the student body, including the sale of yearbooks and budget tickets.

Staff

Lorena George, Pearle Cunliffe, Joann Clannin, and Ruth Bolt work many hours to maintain an excellent senior high office.

Edison homemaking enthusiasts are offered a variety of courses, including general homemaking, foods, and clothing. General homemaking is a one year course planned to give a balanced program in homemaking. It includes units on clothing, foods, housing, health, consumer buying, and management of time, money, and energy in the homemaking field. Homemaking students give teas, style shows, and luncheons to gain experience in their chosen field.

Speech

Speech education is a vital element in a good background of communication. Speech 1 covers basic fundamentals of speech, including discussion, phonetics, body expression, and an introduction to acting. Speech 2 is a more advanced course in discussion, oratory, and debate. Speech 3 covers dramatics, stage techniques, and production. Stagecraft is concerned with control and preparation of the stage and its equipment, for construction of scenery for plays, assemblies, and other activities.

Music

Musical education is by no means neglected at Edison; orchestras, glee clubs, bands, and the more advanced choruses all prove interesting as well as instructive. All advanced music groups participate in school assemblies, evening programs and concerts, P.T.A. and television programs, and tours of the elementary schools. Edison students have taken advantage of this education by taking part in the Tulsa Youth Philharmonic Orchestra and by winning superior ratings in local and state music contests.

Social Studies

Man cannot understand or appreciate his civilization without studying its structure and its evolution. The Edison social studies department includes courses in American history, civics, government and economics, Oklahoma history, world history, ancient and medieval history, and modern history. Challenged by these courses, many Edison students have received honors in the field of social studies at outstanding universities.

Time and space are the foundation for the study of history. Miss Parish indicates a part of the world to student Marilyn Sparks which will be included in her study of ancient history.

Art

Art students at Edison may choose from numerous courses offered to provide both enjoyment and practical education. These include basic art, painting, commercial art, fashion and interior design, and related arts. Edison students have repaid the efforts of their art teachers by winning many awards in regional and national competition.

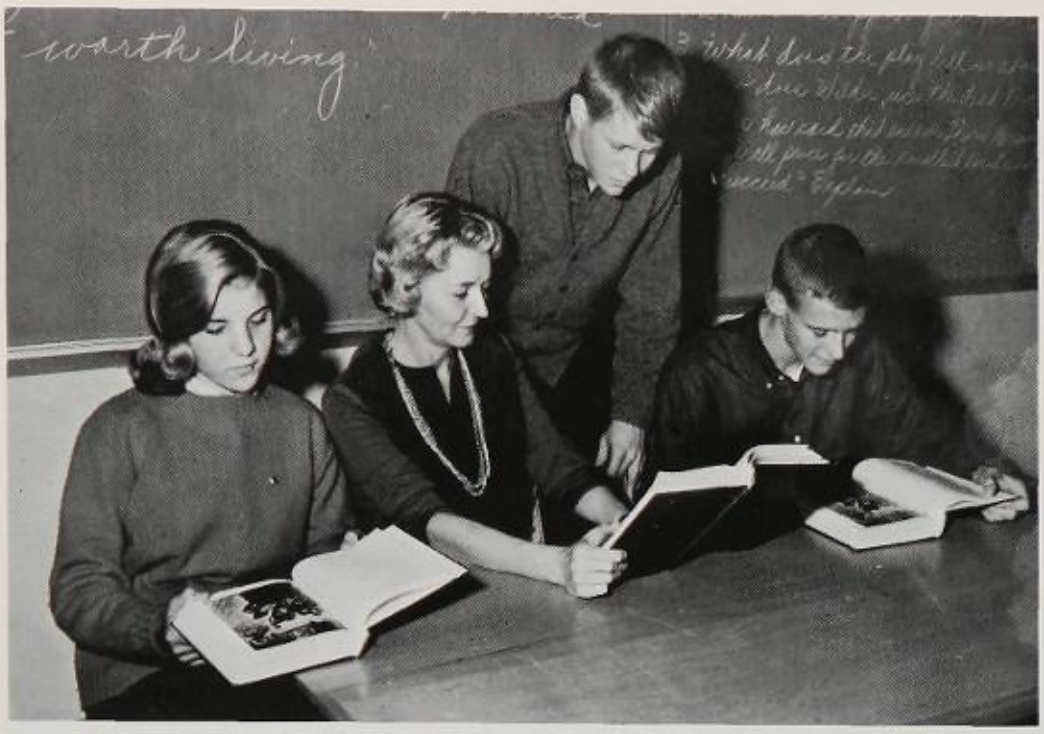
Personal gains and skills are developed through the department of business education at Edison. Classes in typing, notehand, business law and math, bookkeeping, shorthand, office practice, and business machines also prove useful in preparation for vocational and higher educational goals.



Much reading, creative writing, and interpretation are included in honors English. Discussing a literature selection are Mrs. Richey, Nancy Netherton, Kirk Van Valkenburgh, and Steve Ogier.

Edison's senior high English department is an excellent basis for higher education in any field. It strengthens the students' knowledge of grammar, but more important, it teaches them to express themselves clearly by emphasizing the study and interpretation of literature. Including the study of Shakespearean plays, units on short stories and poetry, and extensive studies of the literature from different nations, the three years of high school English are truly a broadening experience.

Math

At Edison a student can acquire an excellent foundation in math. Beginning with basic arithmetic in the seventh grade, the department offers courses in algebra I through V, plane and solid geometry, trigonometry, analytic geometry and calculus, and three levels of math. The results of this fine education are the high scores made by Edison students on standardized tests and awards won in the National Math Test.

An eager math student provides a challenging question for Mr. Conner.

Observation and study are important parts of a good biology course. A botany specimen proves of interest to Mr. Sanderson, Nancy Sangunett, and Stacy Forrest.

Many technicalities of today's scientific world require a more detailed and demanding scientific education. To keep up with these increasing demands, courses at Edison are offered in general and physical science, biology, earth science, chemistry, physiology, and physics. These excellent educational opportunities provide a student with a broad knowledge of the various sciences.

Listening to a lecture by Dr. Oscar Irazarry, a one time Spanish teacher, are privileged Spanish students in Edison's fifth and sixth year classes.

Edison students are offered courses in three foreign languages: French, Latin, and Spanish. They may take either conversational or grammatical courses, both of which offer fine foundations for further study. Foreign language students participate in language club activities and present a foreign language assembly so that the customs of their respective language may be presented to the entire student body.

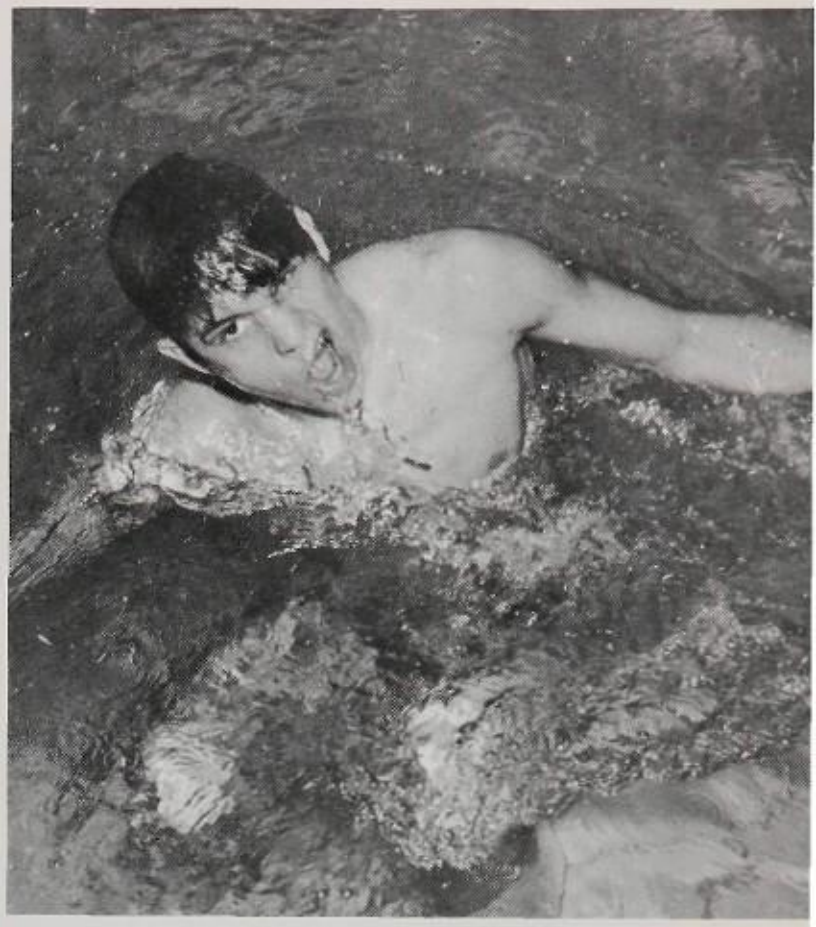
Student Life

Edison's 1964 finalists in foreign exchange programs are Jolene Davis, Wendy Jacobson, Nord Hastings, Lonnie Donovan, Francie Marks, and Anne Scruton.

Foreign Exchange Programs

Sponsored by the American Field Service, Tricia Lewis left Tulsa early in February to live with the Gonzalez-Arroyo family in Mendoza, Argentina. She will return to Edison after Christmas.

Applicants for Edison's foreign exchange programs undergo rigorous questioning. In the home of Mrs. Presley Ford, chairman of the exchange committee, Francie Marks is interviewed by Mrs. C. S. Lewis and Mrs. Claude Dyer.



Ney Tavora's hobby is swimming. He is AFS student from Brazil.

Robbie Christie, Edison's Australian student, is an accomplished oboeist who has performed for the student body in assemblies.

Charles Goodall, Reverend Ben Hill, and Father Donald Smith presented inspirational talks during the Brotherhood Breakfast.

Eager Edisonites line up to see NORTH by NORTHWEST.

Mr. Cleveland proudly displays a portrait of Edison donated to the school by the Public Service Company.

Tulsa A.F.S. students and their American relatives provided interesting insights on foreign opinions during the assembly.

Edison

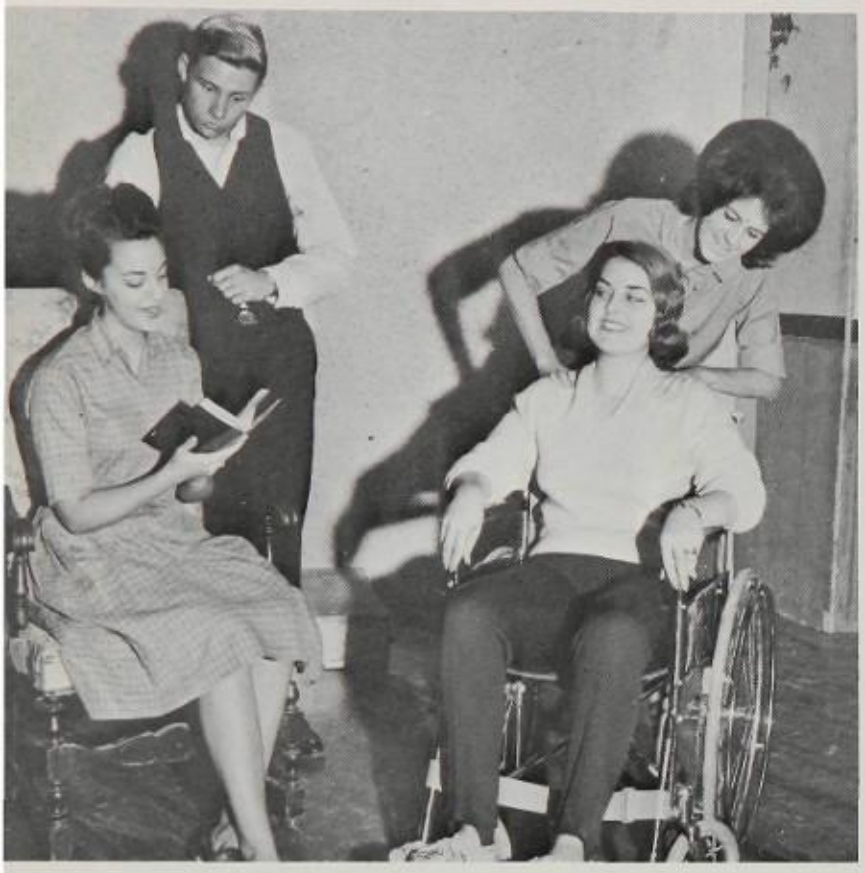
Each year Edison chooses four outstanding boys as candidates for Mr. Edison.

Teachers were honored by both their homerooms and the Student Council on "their" day.

Week

One of the outstanding activities of the year is recognition of Edison's birthday. The activities of Edison Week commence with a pep rally in the fieldhouse and continue through the Brotherhood Breakfast and Teacher Appreciation Day. The week climaxes with student superlatives, Mr. Edison, and Student Council Valentine's dance. This year's Mr. Edison was Vic Williams. Other candidates were Scott Hall, Mark Wolf, and Phil Boesche.

One of the more inspirational moments of Edison Week was the flag raising.



Carol Soule, portraying Olivia Grayne, is shown during the opening scene reading poetry to Mrs. Bramson, played by Pam McKissick.

Anguish and doubt cloud the faces of play members as Dick Motely tells of a mysterious incident he has observed.

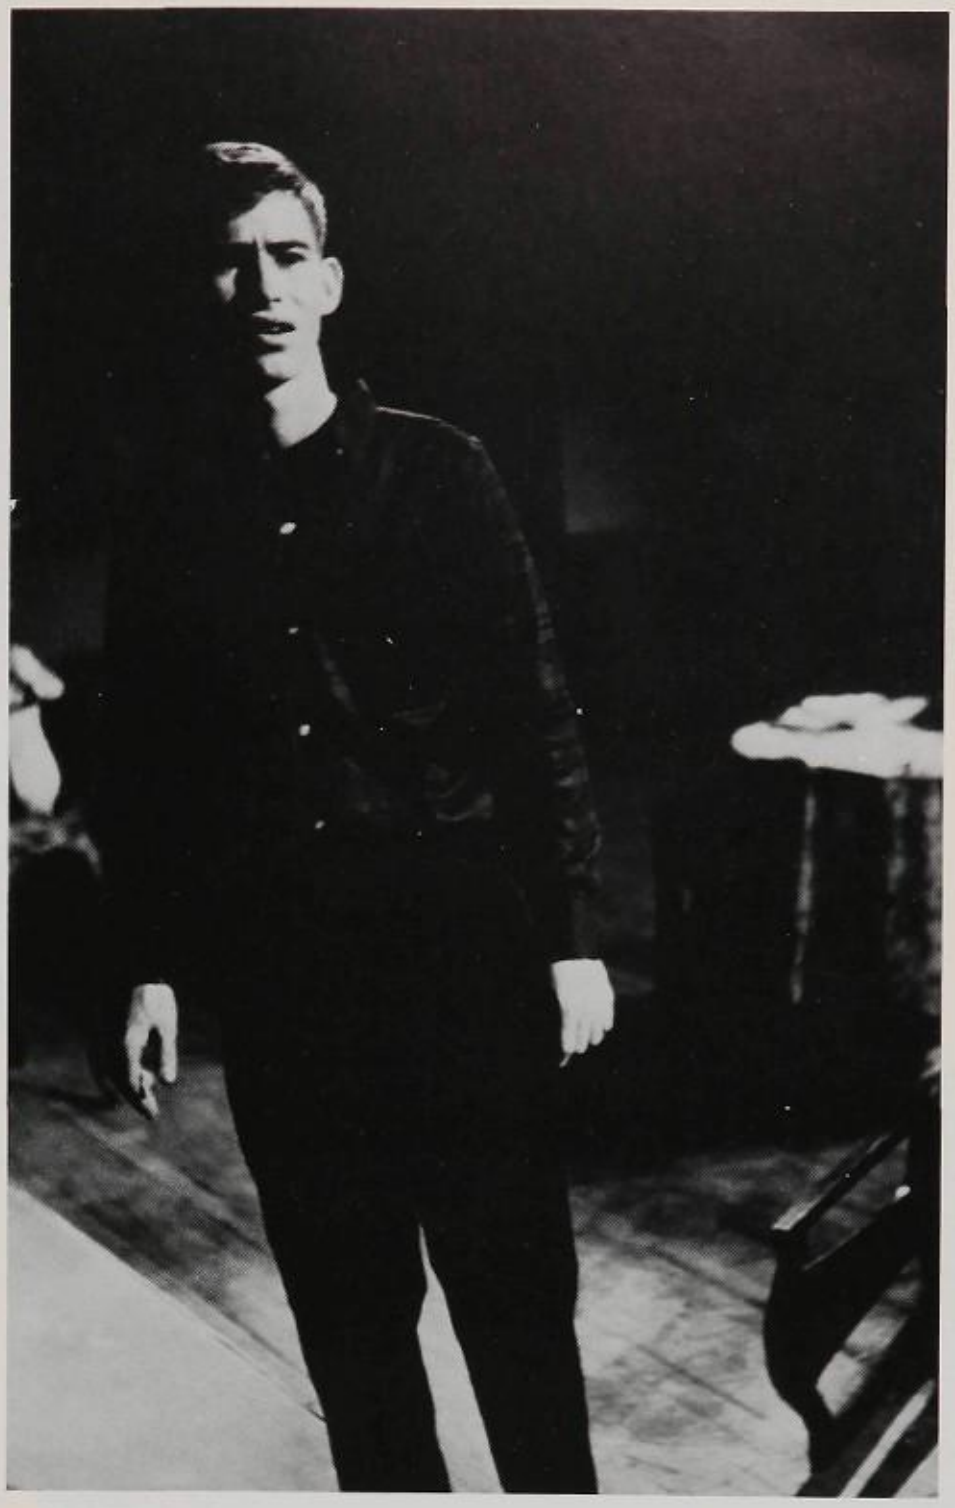
Seniors display Edison's

This year the seniors presented the psychological drama, Night Must Fall, an exciting murder mystery written by Emlyn Williams.

The play opens at the English country home of an elderly, crippled woman living alone with her servants. A shy niece, bold servants, questioning police, and a confused young man provide a variety of characters lending atmospheres of humor, mystery, and drama to the complex and ever interesting plot.

Searching through the hatbox, these three characters are unable to find the missing head.

outstanding talent



Dan, played by Bill Millard, enacts one of his most dramatic scenes as the psychological murderer.

The subtle humor of Hubert Laurie, portrayed by Dick Motely, is in great contrast to the more serious nature of the puzzled, uncertain young Dan, Bill Millard.

Dexter Franklin, played by Mike Tipton, looks on hungrily as Corlis Archer, played by Robbie Liekam, offers candy to her father, Jim Barnes.

Janet Cockriel deftly applies grease paint to Doug Wilson as Jim Johnston touches up his make-up.

David Williams and DeeDee Knapp sacrificed many hours as they rehearsed this scene repeatedly during practice sessions.

Ten frightened students caught in a boy's dorm, the principal at the door, and few places to hide cause a great stir of excitement.

produce comedies

The combined efforts of the Junior Board, class, and officers helped achieve a rousing success of "Kiss and Tell." The setting in the 1940's, a Junior Red Cross kissing booth, a secret marriage, and jealous neighbors, all add to the complex and hilarious developments of "Kiss and Tell."

"Best Foot Forward," the sophomore play, is staged on a typical college campus. Many enjoyable moments are provided when a senior boy invites a movie star to the prom, she accepts, and then his steady girl arrives for the dance.

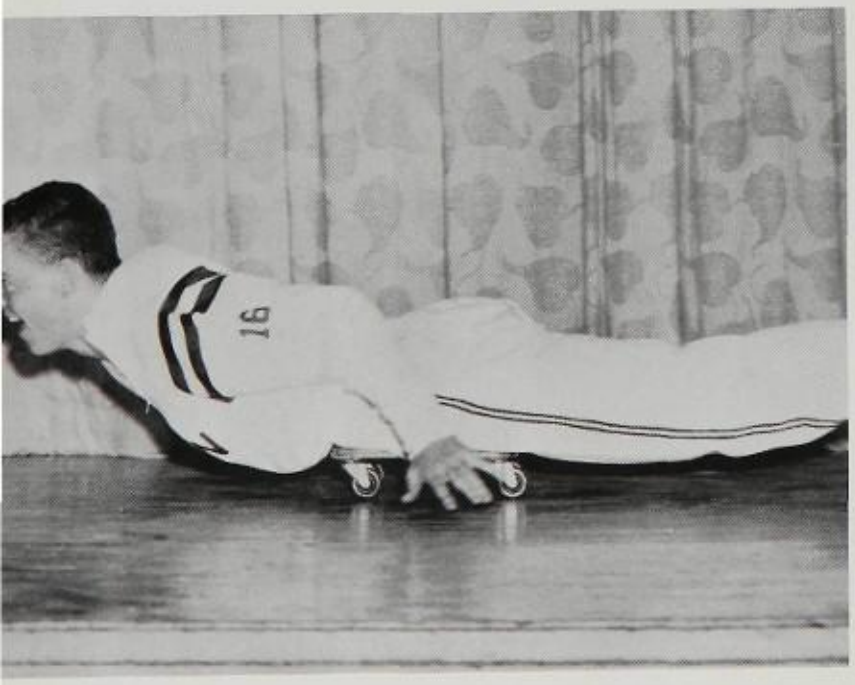
Doc Reeber, David Cooper, the principal of Winsocki Prep School, along with his secretary, Penny Van Hoose, search the dormitory room and almost do not catch prep-student, Mark Buchner, as he starts to climb out the window.

Caught by the anger of a double date, Bud, Gary Graham, tries to escape the wrath of both girls.

Keeping in style with a Beatle wig is Dr. Burkhart as she prepares to start her trig class.

Mr. Griffin, Mr. Grow, and Mr. Hoopert put their triple whammie hex on the Roper football team.

Teachers, assemblies,



Edison athletes spark team enthusiasm by participating in the winter sports assembly.

Mr. Hastings, chemistry teacher, agrees that it is a ratity when Edison students can walk down the hall and smell fresh air.

Besides their singing talent, The Bugs play benefit basketball games, one of which was for the junior class.

Ben Henneke and Sandy Dixon are ecstatic over the results of the canned goods drive.

school spirit, lend variety

Dressed for Hex Day, these fine boys typify Edison's originality.

Scott Hall and Wes Disney admire the robot designed by Rob Barr in support of the football team.

Sandra Williams, Francie Marks, and Sandra Proskovec agree that whether it is mink or mouse it has to be fur on coat collars.

For Martha Manhart, Deborah Allen, Belinda Bates, and many Edison girls a favorite outfit is short skirts or jumpers and knee socks.

New fads, school

Ski jackets are a common sight at Edison as displayed by Lynn Rylander, John Munneke, and Roger Grigor.

Many hours of hard work pay off as Linda McCarty, Lana Hamilton, Janie Asher, Angela Anderson, and Alice Dunbar model their accomplishments in the annual Edison Style Show.

activities prevail

Mr. Alexander's creativity plus the singing talent of his homeroom enabled his song to win an award during Edison Week.

Swingin', singin' Joyce, the voice, Avery cracks out another tune on her guitar.

Cheerleaders boost

Kathy Kendall, head pom-pom girl, prepares a booklet designed to help orientate new cheerleaders.

Cheerleaders use their vibrant enthusiasm to activate school spirit for the big game.

Cheering at the game is the result of many hours of diligent practice.

School spirit at Edison is maintained by the enthusiastic cheerleaders. In preparation for their many activities they attend a summer clinic at the University of Oklahoma in addition to the many practice sessions. Their activities include leading cheers at games and pep assemblies and encouraging good sportsmanship of the student body.

New cheers are unveiled at a pep rally before school.

Gleaning ideas from past yearbooks are Donnie Roberts, Nancy Remy, Sandra Williams, Lynna Snider, Marilyn Manton, David Detrick.

Mrs. Parr and staff members Lee Hoevel, Ann Grekel, Nancy Chandler, Bill Dunn, Carol Highland inform Mr. Smith of some of his many duties as the new sponsor.

Members of the Edison yearbook staff must devote time, endurance, and forethought in order to put forth an imaginative yearbook. Countless hard-working hours provide abundant pleasure and a feeling of accomplishment.

Journalism affords many opportunities in learning the fundamentals of newspaper writing. School activities are efficiently covered in the School Life, Noside Times, and Southside Times by the journalism staff.

Yearbook and journalism

Co-editors Drue Dillard and Pat Morris review the dummy of last year's yearbook in order to prevent many common errors.

One of the highlights of the journalism class was the interviewing of Bill Blair, star of the "Big Bill and Oomagog Show" and KVOO-TV weatherman.

Kathy Warden and Janice Tomer, co-editors of School Life, review the current editions of the newspaper.

rush to meet deadlines

Mr. Alexander's homeroom won the Senior Play ticket sales contest, supported a needy family, and earned the award of homeroom of the month as well as having sweatshirts and a homeroom banner.

Mrs. Richey's homeroom earned recognition by having a book sale for AFS. These hard-working students have twice merited the homeroom of the month award.

Recognition earned

Car washes and bake sales have shown the enthusiasm of Dr. Burkhart's homeroom. They were also first to be one hundred percent in budget ticket sales.

Cole's Capshooters show their school spirit by wearing homeroom sweatshirts and participating in pep rally skits.

Sandra Williams, David Detrick, Drue Dillard, Pat Morris, Bill Dunn and Mary Alice Baldwin receive their Honor Society membership cards.

Throughout history, man has recognized and marked for special honor those who excel. Ancient and medieval universities established their honor societies. In modern times, the coveted honor of election to Phi Beta Kappa outranks all other distinctions that a college can bestow. In election to the National Honor Society, the secondary school faculty honors the attainments already made and recognizes the promise they contain of continued excellence in the cherished ideals of a school.

Leaders of the National Honor Society are Ann Grekel, secretary; Paul Taylor, vice-president; Jim McWilliams, president; Mike Gravitt, treasurer.

Classes

Whether it was Vic and Eileen's singing or Kris and Jerry's playing, Kathy was ill and could not have her picture taken.

Senior officers,

This memorable year has brought happiness to Edison seniors as they prepare themselves scholastically for college and for jobs. They find relief from their studies by sponsoring the Christmas dance, Twelfth Night, the senior play, Night Must Fall, and Miss Edison's coronation mixer, the Regal Eagle Ball. The senior class officers are Jerry Barnett, president; Vic Williams, vice-president; Kris Wienecke, secretary; Eileen Freeman, treasurer; and Kathy Kendall, social chairman. With the cooperation of the senior board and its able sponsor, Mr. Alexander, the senior class has successfully undertaken projects such as mums for football homecoming and the election of Mr. S.L.O.B. If the achievements of a senior class are an indication of the ability of its members, many in the class of 1964 are destined for greatness.

Kathy Kendall and Jerry Barnett listen attentively as the senior board discusses Twelfth Night, the Christmas dance.

Our illustrious senior class sponsor also gives stirring history lectures.

after us for the last time.

Alan Fedman, vice-president, is getting a lot of advice on how to change a flat tire by Ginny Dunn, treasurer; Cheryl Crain, social chairman; and Linda Freeman, secretary.

Officers,

Our junior officers meet frequently to discuss problems and plan activities of the junior class.

Junior board members DeeDee Knapp, Paula Stogner, Drew Neville, and Barbara Bennett are hard at work making posters for the junior mixer, "A Gathering of Eagles."

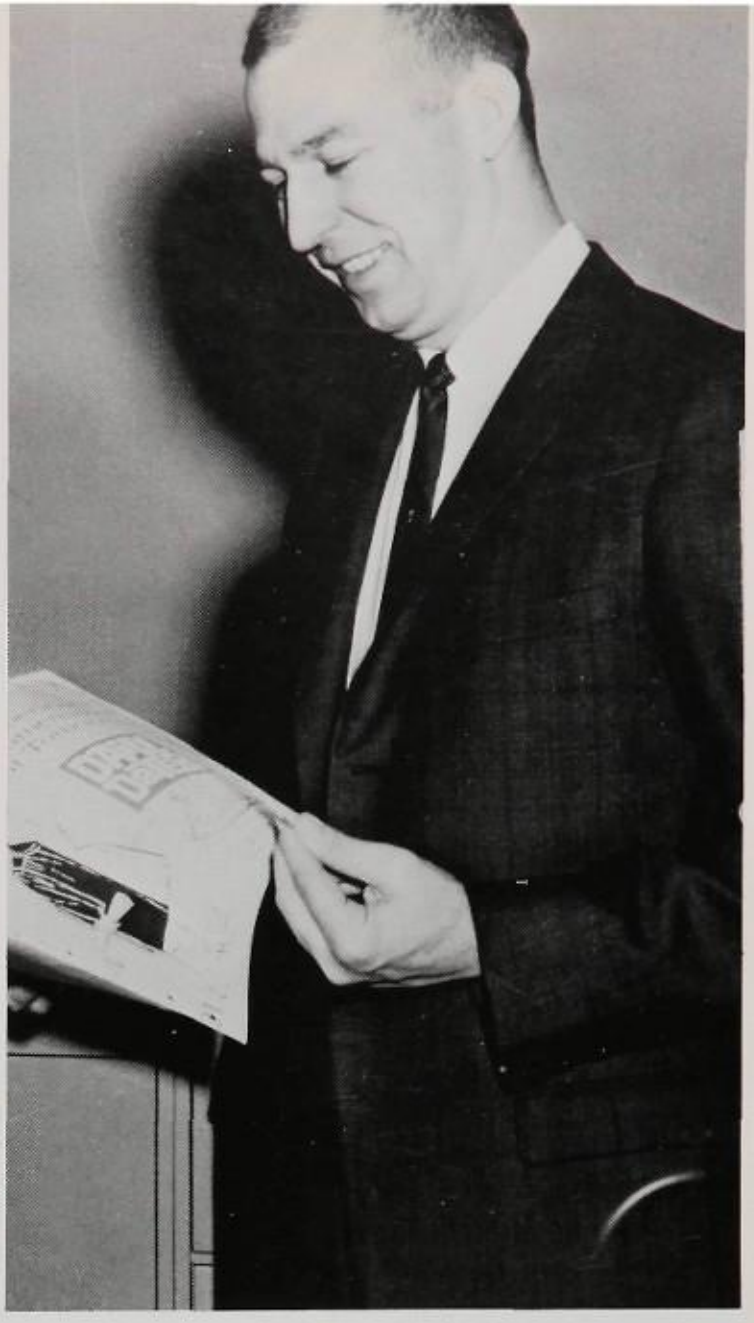
Sophomore members of the Eyrie committee, Sandra Vale and Greta Minsky, finds it interesting and helpful to study a copy of last year's anthology.



Mr. Bardrick, sophomore class sponsor, often can be found helping students in his spare time.

Queen Attendants

Attendants to Miss Edison are selected, under supervision of the Student Council, by the student body. The varsity team of the other sports nominate the other attendants. They are voted on at each home game of the sport they represent. These attendants reflect the scholarship, leadership, and beauty which Edison royalty possesses.

Kathy Kendall was elected Girl of the Month for September. Kathy is very active in school functions. She is a member of Senior Board, a member of Usherettes, captain of the cheerleaders, and she is Social Chairman for the Senior Class. Kathy was also honored as an attendant to Miss Edison and she was Basketball Queen.

Boy of the Month for September is Ben Henneke. Ben is one who works hard as a senior. He is President of Student Council, a track and cross-country letterman, a member of the National Honor Society, a National Merit Finalist, and a member of Key Club.

September

October

Miss Edison VII, Nancy Allison, has been extremely active in various school activities. In her sophomore year she was a cheerleader, Sophomore Board Member-at-Large, and Basketball Queen Attendant. During Nancy's junior year she served as Junior Class Secretary, member of the Junior Board, cheerleader, and attendant to Miss Edison. Her senior year she has been active as a cheerleader, member of Senior Board, Usherettes, and is on the Honor Roll.

Moving to Edison in his junior year, October's Boy of the Month, Mark Wolf, became a member of Key Club, was voted homeroom president, and participated in football. In his senior year, he was elected to the National Honor Society and was a candidate for "Mr. Edison."

Carol Soule, chosen as November's Girl of the Month, has been active in school activities since her sophomore year when she was in the sophomore play and in Thespians. During her junior year she participated in French Club, Student Council, and the school talent show. This year she is a member of Usherettes, Concert Chorus, and the Student Council Publications and Social Committees. She was also elected "Most Talented."

Boy of the Month for November is Vic Williams. He has served as President of the Junior Class, member of Key Club, Student Council, and was voted "Most Likely to Succeed." In Vic's senior year he was honored as "Mr. Edison," vice-president of the Senior Class, and he was chosen "Most Polite."

November

December

While she was a sophomore, December's Girl of the Month, Barbara Roller, was a cheerleader and vice-president of her homeroom. During her junior year she was a member of French Club, became Wrestling Queen Attendant and was on the Junior Board. In her senior year she is cheerleader co-captain and a Senior Board Member-at-Large. She was also elected to the National Honor Society, to Usherettes, and Basketball Queen Attendant.

Phil Boesche, December's Boy of the Month, was homeroom president, a member of Student Council, and on the 24 point Honor Roll in his sophomore year. As a junior he became a member of Key Club and was elected as "Best Student." In his senior year he is vice-president of the Student Council, a candidate for "Mr. Edison," and was elected "Most Likely to Succeed."

Jacque Frost, an active student at Edison, was selected as January's Girl of the Month. As a sophomore she was a Student Council Representative and in the sophomore play. During her junior year she was Chairman of Edison Week, Student Council Secretary, and on the Junior Board. This year she is President of Usherettes, was elected "Most Deserving," and served as Chairman of the Brotherhood Breakfast.

Making the 23 point Honor Roll, being a homeroom officer, and participating in wrestling and track are a few of the accomplishments which January's Boy of the Month, Mike Gravitt, achieved in his sophomore year. During his junior year, he was an American Field Service semi-finalist and a member of the National Honor Society. In his senior year, he is a member of Key Club and the Senior Board. He was also elected Treasurer of the National Honor Society, and "Most Deserving."

January

February

February's Girl of the Month, Eileen Freeman, was Football Queen Attendant and acted in the class play during her sophomore year. She served as Junior Class vice-president, was a member of National Honor Society and Junior Board. In her senior year Eileen is class treasurer, an Usherettes member and Edison's "Most Friendly" girl.

As a sophomore, Paul Taylor, February's Boy of the Month, achieved the 24 point Honor Roll. In his junior year, Paul served on the staff of the Eyrie, Edison's literary anthology. A Key Club member in his senior year, Paul is National Honor Society vice-president and "Most Dependable."

Mr. Edison, Vic Williams

Vic Williams was chosen Mr. Edison for 1964. The title signifies a boy who has leadership ability, a keen sense of school spirit, and popularity with his fellow students. Among the senior boys Mr. Edison is a goal to be strived for. Keeping the qualifications for Mr. Edison in mind, the entire student body selects Mr. Edison.

During Vic's three years of high school, he has been very active in school functions. He served as President of the Junior Class, and was elected "Most Likely to Succeed." In his senior year he is vice-president of the Senior Class and was elected as "Most Polite."

Student

Eileen Freeman, Teb Blackwell, Most Friendly; Sandy Dixon, Jerry Barnett, Best Worker; Kris Wienecke, Paul Taylor, Most Dependable; Carol Soule, Frank Mantooth, Most Talented.

Miss Edison, Nancy Allison, presented a proud Vic Williams with the mace which is the symbol of his reign.

Mark Wolf, Sherri Shanor, "Most School Spirited"; Nancy Chandler, Drew Neville, "Best Sport."

Superlatives

Student Superlatives are elected by the student body through the Sophomore, Junior, and Senior Boards. They are chosen on the basis of having the personal qualifications which the names of the categories imply. On the final ballot, winners may be from any of the three classes. The quality of a school is determined by the quality of students it produces. At Edison, we are justifiably proud to say that our Student Superlatives represent the highest quality of character of our student body.

Mike Gravitt, "Most Deserving"; Ann Grekel, "Best Student"; Jacque Frost, "Most Deserving"; Vic Williams, "Most Polite"; Nancy Allison, "Most Polite"; Phil Boesche, Ann McCoy, "Most Likely to Succeed"; Jim McWilliams, "Best Student."

Edison had reason to be proud of its football team this year, as the varsity pulled upsets on the league-leading Bartlesville Wildcats and the tough Rogers Ropers, mashed Memorial, and bettered last year's record. They were tied for the conference lead with only the Muskogee game left, but lost a 14-16 heartbreaker to the Roughers and dropped to fourth place.

The varsity included many outstanding individuals, including four All-City players, four All-Conference players, one All-State player, and the Player of the Year. Team spirit improved significantly, and the Eagles never lost a game without a hard fight. The 1963 Eagles have maintained Edison's reputation in conference and state football circles as one of the top high school teams in the state.

Larry Purdy and Scott Hall run their favorite play with Larry carrying the ball.

Edison's outstanding football team owes its success to the foundation which its players receive in B-squad during their sophomore year. From the hours of practice and the valuable experience gained in B-squad games, they build skills which stand them in good stead in their two following years of varsity action. Tackling, blocking, and running plays, the junior athletes gain the polish which characterizes the Eagle varsity.

The Eagles avenged their 16-0 defeat by Rogers in the All-City by upsetting the Ropers 19-13 in regular season competition.

rate high in state

Swimming is one of the most highly rated sports at Edison, and this year was no exception. Even though the squad lost several All-Americans last year, sophomores and juniors stepped into their places and the team has continued its winning ways. As one of the Big Three teams in the state, Eagle swimmers presented a threat to anyone's title hopes, finishing second in the city and tied with Bartlesville for second in the Oklahoma Seven conference swim meets. Individuals highlighting the swim meets this year were Dave Johnson, first in both city and conference freestyle events, Alex Whitmore, first in city and second in conference breaststroke events, Pat Bryant, fourth in conference butterfly, and Bob Becher, second in both city and conference backstroke events, and Luther Like, first in both city and conference diving.

Edison's stylish warm-up suits lend a note of fashion to poolside besides keeping the swimmers warm and happy.

Edison's cross country and track teams, ably coached by Hugh Pierce, have managed to garner their share of honors in meets this year. Co-captains Mike Gravitt and Steve Stroup led the cross country team to high placings in both conference and state meets even though illness prevented many team members from performing their best. With a number of returning lettermen, the track team has great expectations this year which will undoubtedly prove to be well founded.

Thanks to the excellent facilities available to the golf and tennis teams, our players have proven successful in their acquisition of several city crowns. A victorious season has been prophesized for these two Eagle teams. Marked by the experience of several returning lettermen, these squads will step into the conference title race with little trepidation about their chances. We are sure these teams will bring as much satisfaction to Eagle fans as previous sports have done..
